

Archive Search (1999 -)

ADVERTISEMENT

STORY SEARCH

GO

7 Days Archive

S M I W I F S

News

- Local news
- W.Va. news
- Ohio news
- Nation/World
- Communities
- Obituaries
- Celebrations
- Marshall University
- School Zone
- Shape Up Tri-State
- Travel
- Weather
- Corrections
- Sports
- Business
- Your Life
- Opinions
- Entertainment

Outdoors

Customer Care

Links

- USA TODAY
- Gannett
- Gannett Foundation
- River Cities Printing

TOP JOBS
 Herald-Dispatch.com POWERED BY
 careerbuilder®

COMPLIANCE TECHNICIAN

Crane Operators Our work

Diabetes Inpatient Clinician Our

All Top Jobs About Top Jobs

LOCAL NEWS | Friday, October, 28, 2005

E-mail this article

Print this article

College of Law honors John Jenkins

HUNTINGTON -- Huntington attorney John E. Jenkins Jr. was honored Thursday night for his service to the West Virginia University College of Law.

At a reception at the Huntington Museum of Art, College of Law Dean John Fisher saluted Jenkins, 81, for his distinguished career as a lawyer and his devotion to the university, where he has taught law courses for the past 15 years.

Matt Hempel/The Herald-Dispatch

West Virginia Sen. Evan Jenkins chats with his father, John, on Thursday during a West Virginia University College of Law celebration at the Huntington Museum of Art honoring the senator's father.

ADVERTISEMENT

The Colonial House
 GIFT SHOPPE

Williamsburg Reproductions

The WVU College of Law hosted the event in honor of members of the Cabell County Bar Association, and Fisher was one of several law school faculty and staff members who traveled from Morgantown for the reception, co-sponsored by the Jenkins Fenstermaker law firm.

- Get more information on this topic by searching our Archives
- Discuss this topic with others in our Community Forum